The criminal record in the United States was very bad last year. It may be incidentally observed that last year was a Republican year.

The Democratic party in this State did not do much in the way of managing the Republican party last year, but it successfully managed that part of it which was in the penitentiary.

The Kansas Supreme Court has decided that the Legislature cannot compel a citizen to vote if he doesn't want to. This is a relief, for the thoughtful citizen of that State can't always tell whether it is best to vote or not.

"The Private Secretary"—A Fine Performance Given to a Delighted Audience.

For about two hours and a half at the Opera House last night fun was fast and furious. William Gillette's great success, "The Private Secretary," was presented.

Mr. Harry Dull, as Rev. Robert Spalding, certainly suited the role assigned him, for his every movement and sayings "brought down the house."

Mr. Frank Cotton as Mr. Cattermole deserves special mention. He proved himself to be a comedian, and kept the audience in a roar whenever he stepped before the footlights.

The specialties of the company were all good, especially Mr. Edwin Gravers in his comic songs.

The troupe is composed of No. 1 artists, and should be greeted this afternoon and evening with rousing houses.

Matinee prices, 25 and 50 cents. Seats for this evening's performance are on sale at Gerken's.

WILMINGTON A SUMMER RESORT.

Statistics Showing the Number of Visitors Last Season at the Seaside.

A gentleman who is esthusiastic, and justly so, over the attractions which Wilmington offers as a Summer resort, writes a communication to the Star in which he shows that the city has fair prospect of becoming the leading watering place on the South Atlantic coast. The correspondent bases his conclusions on facts and figures, having made an examination of the Bonitz Hotel register, at which hotel many Summer excursionists put up. An actual count showed that out of 15 000 names registered between the first of January, 1886, and the first of January, 1897, 10,000, or two-thirds, were entered in the months of May, June, July, August and September, these being the main excursion months.

It is estimated further that the registrations at the Bonitz represented not more than one-fourth of the entire number of Summer visitors. So, it can be safely said that fully 40,000 people came to Wilmington, or through Wilmington on their way to the resorts near here, during last season.

The excursionists, our correspondent observes, go away from the city laden with bundles of dry goods, furnishing goods and other merchandise. Supposing each one to spend $2.00, it is at once apparent what a large sum of money is spent in the run of a season. And this is not taking into account the advertising the city necessarily gets in the process.

In view of the foregoing facts, our correspondent urges the merchants and other business men, who have the welfare of the community at heart, to spare no reasonable effort to make the coming season still more successful than that of '96—a consummation which can be brought about by providing popular amusements, such as open air concerts, cheap and instructive exhibitions, and other such attractions.

U. S. Marshal Carroll in the City.

United States Marshal O. J. Carroll arrived in the city last evening. He is here on business connected with the special term of the U. S. Circuit Court which will convene here January 14, Judge Simonton, of Charleston, presiding.

Marshal Carroll gives it as his belief that Pritchard will be elected Senator. He might be defeated if it was not for the fact that the National Republican machine is in sore need of him, so that whatever money can do will be done to make Jeter C. Pritchard the choice of the Legislature.

On being asked if the approaching inauguration was the subject of much conversation in Raleigh, the Marshal replied that he had heard very little about it. He remarked, casually, that the newspaper reports about the opposition in the Capital Club to the resolution tendering a reception to Judge and Mrs. Russell were exaggerated. In fact, it has been stated by a member of the club who was present at the time the vote was taken that there was not a dissenting vote.

BURDENSOME TAXES.

State, County and City All Have to Be Paid at the Same Time of the Year.

A friend suggests that the heavy taxes paid by our people are burdensome, and that in consequence of the State, county and city taxes all being due and payable at the same time it is more oppressive. He cites an instance where a widow has to support herself and son from the rents of a few small houses in this city, and she has not had one cent she could spare for three months in consequence of all her taxes having to be paid about the same time of the year. And this is not an isolated or exceptional case. If there was an interval of several months between the payment of the State and county tax and the city tax, she could bridge over and not find it so oppressive.

Again, garnishees from the State and county and from the city were served during the same week upon an employer for the taxes of the same persons and if both demands had been pressed in some instances there would not have been left money enough for the parties to have purchased provisions for their families for the week. The merchant hardly gets over paying his State, county and city taxes before he is again called upon for a double tax commonly called schedule B tax Cannot some remedy be afforded by our Legislature in session?

The Star, some time since, suggested the adoption of the quarterly system of payments now in force in a few other cities.

Criminal Court.

Cases were tried yesterday as follows:

Floyd Cole, assault and battery with a deadly weapon. Verdict guilty. Judgment suspended upon payment of costs.

Andrew Wilson, convicted of larceny, was sentenced to twelve months imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Ed. James submitted to charges of carrying a concealed weapon and assault and battery with a deadly weapon. Judgment was suspended upon payment of costs, and the County Commissioners were authorized to hire out defendant for the amount of costs.

Ed. McDuffie, larceny. Verdict, not guilty.

Mattie Whitfield, charged with larceny, was found guilty of trespass only and her discharge was ordered.

Court adjourned at 4 p. m. until 10 a. m. to-day.

A case against the Cape Fear Club for failure to pay schedule B tax is set for trial this morning. Defendant claims that under the terms of its charter, the club is exempt from this tax.

Quarterly Meeting.

The first quarterly meeting of Grace Methodist E. church for the present conference year will be held to-morrow, the services being conducted by Rev. R. C. Beaman, the Presiding Elder of the district.

STATE LEGISLATURE.

BOTH HOUSES ADJOURN AFTER A SHORT SESSION.

The Senatorial Situation Unrelieved—Protest Filed by Bolters from the Populist Caucus—A Caban Resolution Introduced by Representative Sutton, of Cumberland, and Adopted.

[Special Star Correspondence.]

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 8.

The Populists caucused again this morning. There was no reference whatever to the Senatorial matter. Three assistant enrolling clerks were nominated. They were Miller of Caldwell, second assistant; Howard Jones of Nash, fourth assistant; and O. Bird, sixth assistant.

The Populists will caucus again to-night and the prediction is made by both sides that the Senatorial matter will be settled so far as the Populist caucus is concerned. The matter ought to be decided because the present uncertainty prevents any legislation.

Maj. Grant says Pritchard's friends have obtained written pledges from a sufficient number of Republicans who will support Pritchard to insure his election.

Senator Pritchard will be asked to go before the Populist caucus tonight at an early hour and make a personal pledge of his devotion and friendliness to the silver cause. Representative Harris of Hyde, tells me that he will introduce a resolution in the Populist caucus to-night asking that Senator Pritchard be requested to appear before the caucus.

Six certain Populists will bolt the Populist caucus for Pritchard. They are Hardison, Barker, Babbit, Abernathy, Hodges and Harris.

Were Ananias on earth he would be put to shame by some of the politicians in the city. All of them are doing their best to tell the most improbable story about the chances of their favorite for Senator.

Josiah Turner is in the city. Mr. Turner will ask the Legislature to pay him interest on the amount of his claim against the State for public printing, which the last Legislature granted him.

[Special Star Telegram.]

Both branches adjourned after an hour's session. Lusk, of Buncombe, introduced the first bill—to repeal the notorious assignment act.

Peace introduced a bill to take Vance county out of the Eastern Criminal Court circuit.

Sutton, of Cumberland, introduced a bill to repeal the act forbidding preferences in assignments; also another bill in reference to the action of co-warrantors and regulating the fees of the sheriff of Cumberland county in summoning special venires.

Alexander introduced a bill providing for the creation of a new list of jurors February 1st in every county.

Claude Dockery was made chairman of the Education committee in the House.

The bolting caucus made the following statement of their proceedings: "The following members of the Senate and House of Representatives in conference assembled desire to say by resolution that we enter our solemn protest against the high handed method of gag rule perpetrated upon us by a majority of the Populist caucus to-night and after having listened on our part with great patience to the views of the majority faction, according them one and two hours for each speaker without protest or murmuring, when we asked to have time to discuss our side of the question we were unceremoniously told by the faction that we could not have but ten minutes each; that after we had appealed to leaders and members of the majority faction to give us time for free and fair discussion of the Senatorial question and time to hear from our constituents upon this important question, they absolutely refused to agree to consider the question at any other time and so cut off discussion by unfair and filibustering tactics.

"Therefore, resolved, first, that we inform our brethren who compose the other faction that when they desire co-operation of this faction they must assure us by resolution that they are willing to accord to us free and fair discussion at some future time to be agreed upon by both factions that then, and not until then, will we consent to again sit together. The statement is signed by the following: Senators T. E. McCaskey, J. F. Newsom, J. M. Early, G. L. Hardison, G. H. Cannon, Dr. D. Reid Parker, R. H. W. Barker, E. F. Wakefield; Representatives A. T. Hodges, C. J. Yarborough, J. E. Bryan, T. H. Rountree, John S. Harriss, Frank Brown, L. A. Abernathy, C. M. Babbit, J. M. Parker, J. J. Waite, C. C. Fagan.

The expected happened and the Populist caucus went to pieces, nineteen members walking out of the Senate chamber, where it was held. The caucus had been in session an hour. Cy. Thompson spoke for harmony and State Committeeman Peice for Pritchard. Senator Moye, of Pitt, introduced the following resolution:

Whereas, Great anxiety abound among Populists who shall be Senator, and Republicans are asking us to endorse Senator Pritchard for that position:

Resolved, That it is the determination of this caucus never to endorse Senator Pritchard for United States Senator.

Parker, of Pritchard's forces, then made a motion that the caucus do not go into the election of Senator to-night. Everybody tried to get the floor and great disorder prevailed. Pritchard Populists said that Chairman Walker, of the caucus, would not recognize them, Senator McCaskey was first to arise. He said: "If I can't get a hearing, I want my friends to walk out with me." This was the signal, and nineteen went out to the astonishment of those remaining. It is claimed that several other members who were absent are in sympathy with the bolters and will act with them. The bolters went to the other hall across the rotunda, where they were in session two hours. Senator Newsome, of the bolters, said he was not so much opposed to the resolution against Pritchard as he was to gag rule. Thirty-eight were left in the regular caucus after the bolters went out. A number of members spoke. All agreed that they could not support Pritchard but thought a free silver Republican should be elected. The resolution against Pritchard was adopted unanimously. Young Senator Butler, brother of Marion, says they had no intention of gagging members. He does not consider them bolters, but says they are filibusters only. Before adjournment at 12 o'clock, the following resolution was adopted unanimously:

Resolved, That we inform the Republican caucus of the action taken by the caucus to-night and that Senator Mitchell and Representative Johnson inform them.

Senator Butler said to-night, "I do not consider Pritchard elected." Congressman F. Owen said something bigger than this had to happen to defeat Butler. Pritchard forces are happy, and they say Senator Pritchard's election is made sure by the action of the minority to-night. The majority caucus expects the Republican caucus to reply to their resolution informing them of the action taken in opposing Pritchard.

Chairman Ayer was in caucus in the earlier part of the session. At 2 o'clock a. m. he was shown the signed resolution of the nineteen members composing the minority. Being interviewed, he said that no effort at gag rule was made.

[By Southern Associated Press.]

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 8.—The Senate and House of Representatives to-day unanimously adopted the following resolution introduced by Representative Sutton, of Cumberland, who is a Confederate veteran:

"That our Senators in the Congress of the United States be instructed and our Representatives be requested to use all honorable means, and as early as possible, to bring about the passage of an act of Congress recognizing the independence of the patriots of Cuba, who for so long a time have been struggling for life and liberty, the God given heritage of all men."

As first introduced the word "belligerency" was used, but there was a unanimous desire for the stronger word "independence."

To-day was the most active and exciting one of all during the present notable Senatorial contest. It was given out that to-night's Populist caucus would settle matters definitely. It was reported that Senator Pritchard would be sent for to state his position to the caucus. This was denied this afternoon and it was said that no one save legislators would be admitted, not even Senator Butler. Congressman Skinner said this evening that he feared a dead-lock between Pritchard and Butler; that he was fighting it, but that it might come. He declared he would do anything honorable to elect Pritchard, and this failing, would vote for certain Populists or Democrats; in other words, he was determined some one should be elected. He says a proposition for a compromise was made to him by Butler to-day; that the latter would stand by Skinner if Skinner could get the caucus nomination, but that he would do no such thing, and would rather be defeated as Pritchard's supporter than be named as Senator by Butler or a Populist caucus. He declares Butler is forced to abandon his plan to name a Republican. The tone of popular comment to-night is that Skinner has weakened and Butler gained.

At 8 o'clock the Populist caucus met in the Senate chamber. As its members, sixty-one in number, filed in, Senator McCaskey, who is the leader of the anti-Butler faction, said to a Republican: "I have rebelled against high-handed tyranny."

Members of the State Central Committee were the only outsiders admitted. Several speeches were made, and Peace, of the Central Committee, urged the support of Pritchard for Senator. Cy. Thompson followed Peace in the same strain.

At 10 30 o'clock the doors were suddenly thrown open and there was a rush of Populists through the rotunda to the hall of the lower House, of which they took possession. Senator McCaskey headed the rush, and in a few moments began to address the bolters, who were said to number twenty, among them being Hodges, Abernathy, Parker, Babbitt, Waite, Newsom, Hardison and Rountree. At the moment when the bolt occurred Senator Butler and Congressman Skinner were in a restaurant near the Capitol at the same table. Butler was informed of the bolt and asked if he was going to the caucus. He replied that he was not. His face was wreathed in smiles. He had expressed himself in the early evening as confident of Pritchard's defeat.

The United Charities.

The following resolutions are published by request of R. L. Hutchins, General Manager of the United Charities:

Whereas, A large number of our race, the colored people, are in a dependent or needy condition on account of their physical and financial inabilities to help themselves; and,

"Whereas, The late Board of County Commissioners a number of business men and several of our colored churches have contributed liberally in aid of these suffering people; therefore,

Resolved, That we, the United Charities, in annual meeting assembled, do hereby extend our infinite gratitude to the late Board of County Commissioners, to the business men and to the several churches for their beneficences, which cannot be computed in dollars and cents to the paupers of our city.

Resolved, That we commend the entire corps of officers of the United Charities for the indefatigable manner in which they have discharged the duties of their respective offices with regard to work for which they were elected to perform.

Resolved further, That we have no language at our command with which we can adequately express our heartfelt appreciation to the press of the city for the kindness it has done us by publishing our proceedings.

Be it further resolved, That while we deplore to mention it, we cannot in justice to the cause we represent shut our eyes to the fact that a number of our churches did not give one cent during the year in furtherance of the cause of the United Charities. We, therefore, urge upon every church to fix a Sunday in which a collection will be made in the interest of this cause.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SATURDAY MORNING, JAN. 9, 1897

THE PURSUIT OF WEALTH.

There is no country in the world whose people as a whole have undergone such a radical change in the past generation in the matter of pursuing wealth as the people of this country have, and that change has brought with it its attendant unhappiness and other curses. The beginning of this change may be traced back to the war between the States when the spirit of adventure, speculation and gambling began to be developed, and we first saw the systematic legislation in State and national legislatures that fostered this spirit. The lavishness with which money was appropriated and expended by State and national legislatures, the reckless life spent by the millions of men under arms who squandered their money as soon as they received it, the high prices asked and paid for everything put upon the market, with the general abundance of money begat a spirit of extravagance and undervaluation of money that the people, notwithstanding the reverses so many of them have passed through since, have not entirely gotten over yet.

The American as a rule has always been more free in the spending of money than the people of other countries, partly from natural inclination to indulge himself and partly from training, and doubtless, also, for the reason that he earned more money and earned it more easily than the people of other countries; but he never developed the eagerness in the pursuit of dollars that has characterized him since the war that so fully brought out this characteristic. The Government fostered the spirit of speculation and grabbing with its army contracts, permits to pass through the army lines cotton bought or stolen in the Confederacy, by permits to army suttlers (some of whom thus laid the foundations of fortunes), by land grants and money bonuses to railroads (which were shared in by some of the statesmen who voted for them), and in various other ways that were never thought of before. With the country turned into a military camp and its thoughts absorbed by war, the legislator had a free swing and there were few to note the methods pursued or to call public servants to account. There never was a country that war didn't demoralize more or less, and no country was ever more demoralized by war than this country was by that mighty conflict of sections, short as it was.

Before that we never heard of Trusts, nor combines, of the pooling of capital in great sums to monopolize trade and force the weaker out, we heard of no organizations of laborers to protect themselves from the aggressions of these combines of capital; people acted more for themselves individually, and depended upon individual effort and legitimate methods for the profits they hoped to make and were content if the profits were moderate. They were not in a hurry to get rich as they are now, and were not pursuing the short and crooked paths to wealth that they do now. Then there were fewer men in proportion to population in the penitentiaries than there are now, fewer wrecked reputations and lives, and fewer suicides' graves.

What a mistaken idea to act upon as the rule of life even if everything was done in a strictly legitimate and honest way. Should rational, responsible beings spend their lives in the wild pursuit of wealth, never satisfied, never at rest, never having enough, though the accumulations run up into the millions or hundreds of millions? Is it rational for a man to spend his days and nights in planning how to beat somebody out of money to add to the proceeds of former scheming, to wear himself out in the chase, die prematurely and in all probability suddenly and leave the hoard that cost him so much effort, anxiety and unrest to be squandered, perhaps more speedily than it was accumulated?

If this mania for rapidly acquired wealth were confined to the few it would not be so bad, but it has become general until very few are content with the small profits that come from patient endeavor. Thousands of people representing various industries, not satisfied with reasonable profits from these but eager to reap larger profits, have become clamorous petitioners for Governmental paternalism to help them accumulate more rapidly by giving them a practical monopoly of the home market and levying tribute upon the home customers who are forced to buy their goods. This thing has been going on so long and doing its demoralizing so long that it is hard now to find the class that has not been contaminated more or less, and all because they are not content to accumulate wealth slowly but are eager to get rich quickly and want the Government to help them do it.

The contagion has spread from the city to the country, from the speculator's counter and the factory to the farm, and the farmer looks also for Governmental paternalism and is disappointed if he doesn't get it, and doesn't "make money" faster than his father did, and fails to realize that his father was a wiser and a happier man than he is, and lived to better purpose.

Of all the men in the world the farmer is the last who should engage in the chase after fortune, who should speculate, take chances and put himself in the power of others while in quest of it. The farm should be a place of methodical industry, but not a place of drudgery and bondage. There should be independent labor, but no serfdom on the farm. There should be the industry and the thrift that co-operates with nature, and utilizes her bounties without straining to accomplish the impossible, when millions of others are all straining in the same way, and thus making an avocation that rightly understood and pursued would be one of pleasure, one of toil and anxiety, disappointment, vexation and suffering. The aim of the farmer's efforts should not be to acquire much wealth, but to accumulate a competency, to find content and enjoyment in life, and to feel that he is at least his own master, that he is working for himself and his domestic fold, and not for some one who holds his side and a mortgage on his roof, or note labor. The farmer who can feel that way and lives that way, is a king beside the speculator with millions, whom a few years of financial disturbances or unlucky ventures may find a bankrupt.

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

The message of Governor Carr is too elaborate a document for an intelligent review in anything like a reasonable space, and while it contains a number of valuable recommendations, will attract attention, and be read more on account of the good showing it makes for Democratic administration than for the suggestions it makes, to which very little attention will be paid by the present Legislature.

The record he exhibits shows that the respective departments have been wisely and economically conducted under his administration, that our charitable, benevolent and penal institutions have been well and economically managed, and that while all this is so, the people of this State are less taxed than the people in any other State in the Union, a fact which was clearly shown in the report of Auditor Furman, a sufficient answer to the Republican and Populistic charge of extravagance.

With Governor Carr's retiring from office, the Democratic party will have made its history for the present, and it will be well for North Carolina if at the end of four years the Governor who succeeds him can on retiring make for those who elected him and support him such an honest and creditable showing.

MINOR MENTION.

The Chicago Tribune makes a specialty of keeping tab on the murders and suicides in this country and presents its reports at the end of each year. It figures up for 1896, 10,652 murders, against 10,500 for 1895. There has been an annual increase since 1890, when the total was 4,290, the number being more than doubled in the meantime. The causes assigned are as follows:

Quarrels	5 580
Unknown	3 961
Jealousy	401
Liquor	459
Highwaymen	300
Infanticide	300
Resisting arrest	59
Highwaymen killed	100
Insanity	359
Self defense	46
Strikes	10
Outrages	28
Riots	10

The suicides show even a greater increase. In 1890 they numbered 2,040; in '91, 3,531; in '92, 3,860; in '93, 4,436; in '94, 4,912; in '95, 5,759; in '96, 6,520, with a start for 1897 which promises to eclipse this. Here we have not far from a threefold increase of suicides in six years, and about half as many suicides as murders in the same time. The principal reason given for the suicides is despondency; insanity, ill-health, domestic infelicity, liquor, business losses and disappointment in love figuring more or less. The fact that despondency was the main cause in these suicides shows how public policies affect not only the people as a whole, but the people as individuals, and make themselves felt in all the walks of life. The despondency was caused by industrial and business depression, due mainly to public policies, which made the struggle for bread too severe and life a burden to too many.

Senator Marion Butler seems to be terribly afraid that some one will think that he is seeking Democratic co operation to elect his candidate to succeed Pritchard; he is so much afraid that he publishes a card in the Caucasian and Raleigh News and Observer stating that he isn't expecting and doesn't want any Democratic help. The fact is that the esteemed Senator, who is nothing if he is not picturesque, and often picturesquely ridiculous, conveys the impression that if he was in deep water and couldn't swim he wouldn't grab a Democratic pole unless the Democrat who held out the pole dodged behind a tree and became invisible. And yet the question arises how is Mr. Butler going to play his game successfully and elect anybody without Democratic votes? The Republican caucus is pledged to stick to Pritchard and it will stick to Pritchard while there is a ghost of a chance of electing him. If they conclude that there is no chance the man that Butler would name is the very last man they would go to, for this would practically be confessing Butler master of the situation and dictator in North Carolina politics as far as their party and his party are concerned. With that alternative presented, viewed from a State standpoint, they had better throw up the fight for Pritchard and make it a free for all fight and take their chances on the persuasive influence of the residue of Hanna's campaign fund.

The Capitol reporter of the Raleigh News and Observer quotes a middle-of-the-road Populist as saying, "Whenever I hear any Populist saying we must stick to Pritchard, I know Republicans have seen that man." That is about the size of it. The Populist who votes for Pritchard will thereby advertise himself as having been bought either before the election with a promise of Republican support or since the election either with Republican money or patronage equivalent to money. There is no getting around that and he might protest until the sun became a ball of ice without convincing two sensible persons to the contrary. Our opinion is, though, that Pritchard will get some Populist votes, the votes of Populists who will henceforth be Republicans, as they practically are now. They will vote for him because they have entered into a compact to do it, and the Republicans hold the documents to prove it, which will be produced if necessary. Whether he can secure enough of these votes to elect him remains to be seen. Those who are using the Populist contingent in the interest of Pritchard will keep their men out of the caucus, with a view to ignoring its action and acting independently of it. They will take their cue from Harry Skinner, who declares that their obligations to Pritchard are above caucus decrees. Pritchard has evidently got Harry and the contingent that Harry can control.

DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE NERVINE cures nervous prostration. Not miraculously, but scientifically, by first removing the germs of disease, and then supplying healthy nerve food, increasing the appetite, helping digestion and strengthening the entire system. Desperate cases require prolonged treatment as shown by that of Mrs. M. B. Reed, of Delta, Iowa, who writes: "As the result of a lightning stroke, the physicians said I had a light stroke of paralysis, my limbs would all draw up. I would have throbbings in my chest that seemed unendurable. For three months I could not sleep and for three weeks did not close my eyes. I prayed for sleep, and felt that if relief did not come I would be dead or insane. I took Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and the second night slept two hours and from that time on my health improved; slowly at first, but steadily and surely. I took in all 40 bottles, and I cannot express how grateful I am, for I am now perfectly well, and have taken no medicine for over four months." Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by druggists on guarantee that first bottle benefits or money refunded.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Fayetteville Observer: Mrs Isham Powell died at Hope Mills yesterday. Mrs. Powell was born and raised in Fayetteville, though she has been living at Hope Mills for several years.

— Raleigh News and Observer: Mr. K R. Weathers, one of Raleigh's oldest and most respected citizens, died yesterday afternoon at 1.25 o'clock, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Thos. A. Jones.

— Goldsboro Argus: Yesterday morning, while Bill Fort and his wife, who live about three miles from Fremont, were away from home attending a hog killing at the house of a neighbor, their dwelling caught fire and their three small children, who were locked up to prevent them from going out in the cold, perished in the flames that destroyed the house. In their burning prison no one was near enough to hear their pitiful cries for help, and their sad and miserable death was not discovered until their parents returned home in the afternoon.

— Clinton Democrat: The youngest daughter of Captain Autry was accidently burned to death at her father's home at Clement last week. ——Mr. Sam Parker died at the home of Mr. W. D. Carroll in Turkey on December 30th. He was aged about 35 years. ——On Thursday night, December 17th, Mr. Marshal Lee, of Westbrook township, had the misfortune to lose his barn, stables and a fine horse and mule by fire. It is not known how the fire originated. He had no insurance. A day or two afterward Mr. Arthul Lee, of Newton Grove, brother of Marshal, lost his dwelling by fire.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— Mr. Quay and Mr. Wanamaker are agreed on one point, and that is that about three fourths of the members of the Pennsylvania Legislature ought to be in the penitentiary.—Washington Post, Ind.

—— The impossibility of making a tariff permanent or anything like that is shown in the clamor for change by some of the New England cotton spinners. It is not three years since they virtually dictated the existing scale, and here they are howling that it must be ripped up and radically reconstructed.—Chattanooga Times, Dem.

—— The fruit growers of California have decided to ask Congress for higher duties on prunes. They have now a duty of 1½ cents a pound on prunes. But they are exporting that fruit, in competition with the prunes of Slavonia and Bosnia, which would seem to show conclusively that they do not need the protection they have. However, when it comes to the tariff and protection, the question often is not "what is needed," but "what can be got."—Savannah News, Dem.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria is the Children's Panacea —the Mother's Friend.

Castoria destroys worms, allays feverishness, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, relieves teething troubles, and cures constipation.

Castoria contains no paregoric, morphine, or opium in any form.

"For several years I have recommended Castoria, and shall always continue to do so as it has invariably produced beneficial results."

EDWIN F. PARDEE, M. D.,
125th Street and 7th Avenue,
New York City.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"The use of Castoria is so universal and its merits so well known that it seems a work of supererogation to endorse it. Few are the intelligent families who do not keep Castoria within easy reach."

CARLOS MARTYN, D. D.,
New York City.

The Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SATURDAY MORNING, JAN. 9, 1897

SPOTS AND FUTURES.

Net Receipts at the Ports—New York Sun's Review of the Cotton Market.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8—The following are the total net receipts at all ports since September 1, 1896: Galveston, 1 032 183 bales; New Orleans, 1 540 389; Mobile, 216 836; Savannah, 639 928; Charleston, 334 860; Wilmington, 211,-918; Norfolk, 584 695; Baltimore, 41 181; New York, 85 583; Boston, 108 401; Newport News, 8 575; Philadelphia, 26 184; West Point, 50; Brunswick, 71,-469; Port Royal, 58 767; Pensacola, 89,-818; Texas City, 41 313. Total, 5,083,-081 bales.

The Sun says: Spot cotton here was unchanged. Sales 59 bales for spinning. Middling uplands 7 3 16c, against 8 5 16c. last year; New Orleans and Gulf 7 7-16c. against 8 9 16c. Savannah advanced 1-16c, and Norfolk and Augusta ¼c.

The speculation to-day was more active and prices advanced sharply. The Liverpool news was better than had been expected and caused higher opening here. Shorts covered and there was a good demand for New Orleans account, and there was also new buying by local operators, while the sentiment was more bullish than for some time past. Prices advanced steadily and closed at the best prices of the day. The indications pointed to lighter receipts at the interior than had been expected, and the statement by Secretary Hester, of New Orleans, that the Texas movement from September 1st to January was 675 000 bales against 1,-389,005 in the same time last season, induced some buying. Manchester advices were favorable and the monthly report of exports of yarns and cloths from the United Kingdom made a bullish exhibit.

A BLOODY FIGHT.

One Man Killed, Two Dying and Five Others Badly Injured.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SCRANTON, PA., Jan. 8.—At a Hungarian christening at Mayfield, this county, yesterday, the usual bloody ending which attends these festivals occurred. As a result of a fight with knives, one man is dead, two are dying and five others are badly carved.

Strong liquor flowed freely at the christening and soon many of them were mad with drink. Seven of the participants went to the house of Lucetz Krutchas. Krutchas soon had to resent an insult to his wife, and then the knives flashed out. Mrs. Krutchas dashed out the light and fled from the room. A fearful fight followed in the dark. The drink-maddened men cut and stabbed each other and rolled together upon the floor in deadly grapple.

Finally a constable and posse broke into the house, and when a light was had a ghastly picture was presented. The furniture was battered and broken and blood was everywhere, and lying stretched on the floor were eight apparently dead and dying men, groaning and cursing.

A physician was hastily summoned. Krutchas was so terribly cut that he died in a short while. The injuries of the other men show the savage nature of the fight.

Dun's Report—The Bank Troubles—Failures Decline in Prices of Staple Products—Manufacturers Curtailing Production.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—R. G. Dun & Co. will say to-morrow in their weekly review of trade:

The year 1897 begins with one clear advantage—the past year has swept out of the way a great number of unsound concerns, which, in any time of activity, would have been dangerous to business. Of the 15 396 commercial and banking failures, with liabilities of $376 815 749 a large share represented crippling losses in previous years or the violence of speculative storms in 1895 or the first half of 1896, while thousands more resulted from the fury of the political tornado last fall. Banking failures, amounting to $50 718 815 during the year, averaged $356 156 each, and were 145 per cent. larger than in 1895. Commercial failures amounted to $326 096,-834, a little over $1,000 000 having been added by the last day of the year, but the average of liabilities, $14,992, was smaller than in some years of prosperity. The failures of brokerage and other commercial concerns averaged $58 418 each, increasing 183 per cent. over 1895, while manufacturing failures averaged $28 808 each and increased 84 per cent. and trading failures increased 8 per cent. and averaged only $9,606 each.

While banking failures have not ceased at the West, apprehension about them has almost wholly subsided and no serious influence upon general trade is now expected. Many sound concerns were doubtless caught by the epidemic, but practically all the important failures are traced to disregard of law and of banking sense at periods somewhat distant. It is felt at the West that all business will be the sounder after its purging, and the return of money to New York has exceeded shipments to the interior by $3,000,000 for the week.

Heavy disbursements by the Treasury and by great corporations make money abundant, and banks and savings banks are seeking good paper, taking some formerly sold at Chicago. Foreign exchange has risen a trifle, as large bills are about to mature. Merchandise exports were 11 per cent. over last year, while imports were 27 per cent. less than for the same week.

Cotton started up a shade, but receipts from plantations are still too large for low estimates, and the condition of the cotton mills foreshadows curtailment rather than a large consumption. The market for goods is extremely slow, as many infer that the unprecedented stocks of print cloths indicate a similar surplus of other goods. The logic is bad, but in many branches the mills have doubtless manufactured goods, anticipating a demand which has not come. It is now proposed to relieve the market by sending quantities of print cloths abroad or locking up two million pieces until the market improves. The only change in quotations is ¼c. reduction in some oleached goods. In woollen goods the only change is a reduction of 7½c. in clay worsteds and mixtures and orders are not more frequent. Orders for boots and shoes have almost ceased, except for a few qualities which have been advanced only 2½ to 5c. in prices, but jobbers are buying a little more as stocks run low. Leather is stiff and hides a shade stronger.

Enormous purchases of billets came with a rush, most of the large concerns contracting for all they required for months and even a year to come, and some of the largest contracts are said to have been at $15 00 or even less, but there is as yet no better demand for structural work, bars are weak, nails have declined to $1 40 for wire and $1 30 for cut, and little is doing in rails, as possible buyers think $35.00 is too high with billets at $15 00 per ton. Nevertheless a great trade is expected when relative prices become settled.

THE SUMTER TRAGEDY.

Simon Cooper, the Negro Murderer, Captured and Killed by a Posse of Citizens.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 8.—Simon Cooper, betrayed by his half brother and uncle, was located in his uncle's house, five miles from Sumter, early this morning, and the building surrounded by a posse of twenty men under Sheriff Pierson, of Sumter. Cooper kept the men at a safe distance with a Winchester rifle; none dared to rush on what seemed certain death. The sheriff telegraphed the conditions to the Governor and asked that a cannon with "solid" shot and a supply of long range rifles be sent to him on a special train. Governor Evans replied that no cannon was available, and ordered Cooper's capture, dead or alive. Balked in this, the sheriff got a cannon in Sumter, but while it was being conveyed to the seat of war Cooper was killed. It seems that under protection of another house some members of the posse got within a short distance of where Cooper was and kept up a hot fire. He hailed them and offered to talk. One of their number told him it would be best to give himself up, but he blasphemed terribly at the suggestion. He was told if he came out unarmed, with his hands up, he would not be killed. Finally, Cooper did come out. One member of the posse, keeping him covered, walked up and took hold of him. The others then surrounded the negro, who began to resist. Then he was shot in the head with a pistol and afterwards with a rifle. He fell, but regained consciousness and kept up his cursing. It was suggested to burn him, but the half-dead man was started to Sumter. On the road the posse, which had assumed the proportions of a mob, tied the officers of the law, hauled Cooper out of the cart in which he was carried and strung him up to a tree, riddling him with bullets.

A coroner's inquest was held on the spot and resulted in a verdict that the killing had been done by persons unknown to the jury.

Cooper's body was carried through the streets of Sumter and viewed by a large crowd. The negroes seemed joyous over the killing of Cooper, who was dreaded by them. The desperado's last wish was that he might have a chance to kill the brother who betrayed him.

STEAMER DAUNTLESS

Cleared of the Charge That She Was Engaged in a Filibustering Expedition, But Still Denied Clearance.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The steamer Dauntless has been cleared of the suspicion that she was engaged in filibustering operations during her recent trip out from Jacksonville. She returned to Jacksonville Wednesday at mid-night, and, under instructions from the Secretary of the Treasury, the collector of customs there to-day made a report by telegraph stating, in substance, that the Dauntless had been occupied in legitimate wrecking work. The collector also reported that application had been made for clearance for the Dauntless for the port of Nuevitas, Cuba, with a cargo of munitions of war and requested instructions. Mr. Carlisle immediately wired him to send a full report on which the department could take action.

In Olden Times

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently overcome habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

SITUATION IN CUBA.

WEYLER HAS REGAINED FAVOR AND WILL BE RETAINED IN COMMAND.

Government Decrees to be Issued Granting Reforms to Cuba and Porto Rico.—Trial of Louis Somellan, an American Citizen.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

HAVANA, Jan. 8.—The trial of Louis Somellan, an American citizen on the charge of conspiring against the Spanish Government, began at 1 o'clock this afternoon. There was a large attendance of spectators. Consul General Lee, who recently said he thought the evidence against the accused was very feeble, was present. After the usual preliminaries, the charges were read, alleging that Somellan was an agent here of the Cuban Junta and was in league with others to overthrow the Spanish authority in Cuba. As in the case of Julio Sanguilly, recently convicted of conspiracy, the defence protested against the formation of the tribunal, arguing that the accused should be tried by six judges, according to the law of 1821, instead of five, the number composing the court. The objection was overruled.

Witnesses were called by the prosecution but their evidence was weak, they testifying to nothing that would support the charge against the prisoner.

The court then adjourned until to-morrow, when further evidence will be heard.

LONDON, January 8.—The Standard's Madrid correspondent telegraphs that despite the criticisms of the press Captain General Weyler has certainly regained favor in official circles owing to the demonstrations made in his favor by the loyalists in Havana. Loyalist clubs have cabled to the Government that they believe that General Weyler's policy will pacify the island and urge that he be retained in his command. The Government also seems to be satisfied with General Weyler's dispatches.

The correspondent adds that the Government has already formulated decrees granting reforms which will be put into effect as soon as Gen. Weyler announces the pacification of the provinces of Havana and Matanzas and the security of crops in half the island is assured. It is understood that under the scheme of reform, all the services in the island will be placed under the direction of a council of administration which is about to be created, but everything concerning the army and navy, justice, taxation and tariffs will be retained by Spain. The Cuban and Porto Rican deputies will continue to sit in the Cortes. The councils in both Cuba and Porto Rico will be consulted concerning the budgets and taxation, and their views will be submitted to the Cortes.

The Government expects that this scheme will conciliate a majority of the Cubans and improve the relations with the United States.

The Heraldo, as an instance of the death rate and the sickness among the soldiers in Cuba, says that a column of 4 000 men sent to the island at the beginning of November numbered only 700 at the end of that month. Many other columns show similar losses from death and sickness.

EARL RUSSELL'S LIBELLERS.

His Mother-in-Law and the Two Other Defendants Sentenced to Eight Months' Imprisonment.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The Old Bailey Court room was crowded this morning when Lady Selina Scott, John Cockerton and William Aylott, who yesterday pleaded guilty of having criminally libelled Earl Russell, Lady Scott's son-in-law, were brought up for sentence. Lady Scott entered the court room accompanied by her daughter, Countess Russell.

When the prisoners were called to the bar for sentence, Mr. John Lawson Walton, M. P., solicitor for Lady Scott, addressed the court in behalf of his client, saying that her ladyship pledged herself not to re-publish any of the libels she had uttered against Earl Russell. Solicitor Hall, speaking for Cockerton and Aylott, said that his client did not withdraw a single word they had said or any statement that they had made concerning Earl Russell, having told nothing but the truth about him. Lady Scott, in reply to the usual question by the court as to what she had to say why sentence should not be pronounced upon her, said she was perfectly willing to accept any punishment that his lordship, the judge, might see fit to inflict. All she had done, she said, was in defence of her darling daughter, and she would gladly suffer anything for her sake. The judge then addressed the prisoners, speaking for half an hour. He was repeatedly interrupted by Lady Scott, who finally became exasperated at the lecturing of the court and exclaimed: 'For goodness sake let me have my sentence! I am only a woman!'

The judge then pronounced sentence upon the prisoners, condemning each of them to eight months' imprisonment without hard labor. Lady Scott, on account of her delicate health, will be treated as a first class misdemeanant, but Cockerton and Aylott will be treated as ordinary prisoners.

As Lady Scott was leaving the prisoner's dock, after the judge had sentenced her, she turned and said: "Every word I uttered against my daughter's husband is true."

NEWS OF THE NAVY.

Admiral Bunce's Squadron of Evolution to Blockade Charleston Early in February.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, January 8.—Admiral Bunce's squadron of evolution is to blockade Charleston early in February. The Admiral had a long conference today, and as a result his plans for drills and manœuvres, of which the rigid military blockade of Charleston, S. C., is the chief feature, were thoroughly approved and all necessary arrangements for carrying out the proposed operations will at once be inaugurated. The scheme involves the maintenance of a strong blockading fleet off Charleston harbor, and the assignment of one or more fast vessels, including the Vesuvius, to duty as blockade runners. Stores and coal will be massed at Port Royal as a base for the smaller blockading cruisers, but the battleships and the big cruisers will have to take turn going to Hampton Roads for supplies, unless it proves feasible to serve them on the high seas.

It is expected that the new cruiser Brooklyn, which will be ready to leave Philadelphia to-morrow to get a silver service from the city for which she was christened, and is then under orders to take aboard her torpedo outfit at Newport, will then be attached to the squadron in time for the manœuvres. The fleet will be the most powerful gathered in recent years, including the battleships Massachusetts, Indiana, Maine and Texas, the cruisers New York, Brooklyn, Columbia, Newark, Raleigh, Olympia, Montgomery, Marblehead and Castine the ram Katbadin, the monitors Puritan and Amphitrite, the torpedo boats Cushing and Ericsson, the dispatch vessels Dolphin and Vesuvius, and the transport Fern.

A dispatch sent out from Atlanta, Ga., stating that Hon. Charles Doughtery, formerly Congressman from the Second District of Florida, had been killed in Cuba while fighting with the insurgents, is a lie out of whole cloth. Mr. Doughtery is in Jacksonville in perfect health.

PROCEEDINGS IN CONGRESS.

The Pacific Railroad Refunding Bill Discussed in the House—Senate Not in Session.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The second day's discussion of the Pacific railroad refunding bill of the House of Representatives developed much more interest, from a popular point of view. Mr. Johnson of California, Republican, in the course of a speech supporting the bill, alluded to Mr. W. R. Hearst, of the San Francisco Examiner and New York Journal, in most vituperative terms. He was answered by Mr. Cooper of Wisconsin, Republican, who characterized the incident as the most disgraceful he had ever known in the history of the Congress.

The bill was advocated by Messrs. Patterson of Tennessee, Democrat, and Hepburn of Iowa, Republican, and antagonized by Messrs. Harrison of Alabama, Democrat; Bratner of Louisiana, Democrat; Swanson of Virginia, Democrat; McCall of Massachusetts, Republican (only upon the rate of interest proposed); by Messrs. Wheeler of Alabama, Democrat, and Shofroth and Bell of Colorado, Populists.

To-morrow the bill will be under consideration for amendment, and several substitutes for it will be proposed.

A resolution was agreed to, offered by Mr. Turner, Democrat, of Georgia, directing the Attorney General to print as an appendix to his last report the correspondence in the Department of Justice upon the great railroad strike in Chicago in 1894.

The House at 5 o'clock, under the rules, took a recess until 8 o'clock, the evening session to be for the consideration of private pension bills.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Wheat Declined—Corn and Oats Closed Lower—Pork Products Were Higher.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Wheat continued on the down grade to day, the lowest prices of the week being seen. May wheat opened from 82 to 81¾c, declined to 80¾c, closing at 80⅞@81c—1⅝@1⅝c under yesterday. Cash wheat was weak and 1¾c lower.

May corn opened at 25¼@25⅝c, declined to 24⅞c, closing at 25c—⅜c under yesterday. Cash corn was steady, closing easy in sympathy with the futures.

May oats closed ⅛@⅜c lower. Cash oats were steady.

Provisions—A slightly easier feeling was observed in product early, due to the surroundings and to lower prices for hogs. Late in the session quite a good demand developed, several packers and commission houses being prominent as buyers. The talk of light receipts of hogs in the near future helped prices. May pork closed 10c higher; May lard 5@7½c higher; May ribs 7½@10c higher.

TOWN UNDER WATER.

Linn Creek in Southern Missouri Inundated—Several Narrow Escapes From Drowning.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 8—A special from Richland, Mo., says the entire town of Linn Creek, in Southwest Missouri, is under water, the Osage river going eighteen inches above high water mark. The water is five feet deep in the court house and the ferry boat from the river, which is a mile from the city, is making regular trips through the main streets, carrying merchandise, household goods, etc., from the inundated buildings. Several narrow escapes from drowning are also reported, in attempts to carry out goods or rescue live stock. Owing to the distance from the railroad track and the lack of telephone or telegraph communication, particulars of the flood in that section are hard to obtain, but it is feared the loss to property will be enormous.

In Wayne county, N. C., William Fort and wife went to a neighbor's to a hog-killing, leaving their three little children locked in the house to prevent them from going out in the cold. The house caught fire and the children were burned to death.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

Miracles In Medicine.

The Wonderful Progress Made within the Past Few Years.

Diseases That Our Mothers Thought Incurable Now Cured by Paine's Celery Compound.

It is difficult, almost impossible, to overestimate the importance of recent advances in medicine and surgery.

In surgery there is the application of the X-ray in determining complicated fractures.

In medicine there is the serum-treatment for germ diseases, and more important still, the extended use of Paine's celery compound in the treatment of the many diseases that arise from a faulty or impaired nervous system.

This class of ailments causes more suffering and earlier deaths than all others, and that is why so much public prominence was at once given to Paine's celery compound when its discovery was first announced by Prof. Phelps of Dartmouth college.

The rapid and sure way that Paine's celery compound cures neuralgia, rheumatism and nervous debility is marvelous even in the eyes of this wonder-working quarter of the century.

Ancient miracles were contrary to natural laws, whereas the remarkable power of Paine's celery compound to make people well comes from a better understanding of the natural causes of disease.

That wonderful set of nerves known as the "sympathetic nervous system," that knits every part of the body together and harmonizes all, is understood to-day as never before. Many persons are not aware that any such nerves exist. They do not know that nothing goes on in any part of the body that every other part does not instantly "know of." The closeness of this sympathy is familiarly illustrated by headaches, indigestion, rheumatism, neuralgia, etc. About every case of sleeplessness, nervousness and dyspepsia is a "sympathetic strike" by brain, nerves or stomach, induced by the lowering of the general health.

People who think to get rid of these troubles by some medicine that disregards the general health of the body are on the wrong track. In getting such diseases as neuralgia and rheumatism out of the system Paine's celery compound proceeds at once to restore a normal appetite and regulate the nerves, as the foundation for building up the health and vigor.

It regulates the bowels without delay, and sees to it that the poisonous humors that are bursting through the skin, in what are, for purposes of classifying, called skin diseases, are given a ready outlet. On this basis of purified blood and regulated nerves the permanent cure of every form of blood diseases, such as eczema, salt rheum, bad complexion, is now assured by this really wonderful remedy.

If the reader of this is not in perfect health let him simply try a first bottle of Paine's celery compound and carefully note the results.

The Right Honorable and Most Reverend Frederick Temple, D. D., the recently appointed Archbishop of Canterbury and Primate of all England, was enthroned at the Cathedral at Canterbury yesterday in the presence of twelve bishops, three hundred and fifty clergymen and a large gathering of the laity.

Affidavits from Sarah Granger Delgado, wife of Harry Delgado, the newspaper correspondent confined in a Cuban hospital, and from Ricardo Acosta, an intimate friend of his father, were yesterday filed in the State Department at Washington, showing the prisoner's identity as an American-born citizen and distinguishing him from Ricardo Delgado. The papers were sent to Consul General Lee.
